

1 ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

2 A ball chair with a securing device has a seat (10) with a backrest
3 (14), a ball-shaped cushion (20), a guard rod (30) holding the ball-shaped
4 cushion (20) with the backrest (14), multiple strengthening blocks (40)
5 attached under the seat (10), and multiple legs attached to the seat (10) by the 6 multiple strengthening blocks (40). Each strengthening block (40) is non-7 hollow to provide an anti-crack efficiency to joints connected to the legs.
8 Additionally, a cone-shaped post is clamped between one strengthening 9 block (40) and one corresponding leg to adjust a total height of the ball chair.